Universal Technical Institute Inc. (UTI) is a nationwide provider of technical training for students seeking careers as professional automotive, diesel, collision repair, motorcycle and marine technicians.

The Sacramento campus is a state-of-the-industry facility with labs that replicate the real-world experiences from multiple automotive, diesel, and collision repair manufacturers and shops.

The facility was voted the Best Industrial Design by the Sacramento Business Journal in 2006. Additionally, the campus has undergone a series of renovations and energy upgrades since occupancy which will be discussed in an open forum.
