November 2008 Monthly Program

Trend
Watch

Presented by:

Bob Cox, Workplace Strategist
with Herman Miller Inc.

The speed of life, including business and development, is moving from fast to even faster. More things are happening at the same time, requiring in-put and contributing to the amount of information available or required for people to sift through. The economy has moved from Industrial to Knowledge and now, looks beyond.

This program is updated annually to provide Herman Miller's views on trends that are shaping the future of work and the workplace based upon their research and the research of others.

- Work Tools
- Work Force
- Work Place
- Work Process

Bob Cox is a West Area Workplace Strategist who enables organizations to realize greater value from their work environment by creating workplace strategies tied to business objectives. Before joining Herman Miller in 2004, Bob spent 26 years with Gensler, an international architecture firm, where he planned more than 10 million square feet of corporate facilities. Bob holds a Bachelor of Architecture from the University of Colorado and is a member of the American Institute of Architects.

Anderson Audio Visual will be providing a "Small Chapter of the Year" commemorative glass to all those in attendance.
